Planta Panta Tree International (PPTI) is a non-profit organization whose main activity is planting trees globally. PPTI also creates awareness about the central role of trees in climate change mitigation.

PPTI operates in the following Countries:

Rwanda

PPTI is planting fruit trees in schools and is engaged in feasibility studies on how to recycle plastic waste.

Sweden

PPTI together with Hope for Sustainable forest (HSF) operates an organic farm on the outskirts of Göteborg. PPTI engages young people in tree planting projects in Sweden to create a generational understating of the importance of trees.

Uganda

PPTI in partnership with PPT Uganda, is planting fruit trees in schools in Uganda to supplement children's nutrition and at same time, planting regular trees as it's own contribution towards the urgent global challenge of reducing atmospheric carbon emissions.

Funds for our project are from the following sources:

- Grants, companies, philanthropies etc
- Recycle, "Panta" to plant trees.
- Proceeds, sales of PPTI bottled water brand:
